Betty	65	65
Neil	80	60

- (A) Andv (B) Cindv (C) Betty (D) Neil
- 42. () Julia can't read the word "museum." What can she do?
 - (A) Talk in English.
- (B) Write new words five times.
- (C) Read new words three times.
- (D) Use phones to check words.
- 43. () Which word is the closest to the meaning of "improve"?
 - (A) better (B) drop (C) hurt (D) dirty

In "The room is not clean. Please clean it up," there are two different uses of the word "clean," but the meanings of the first and the second clean are similar. In English, there are many words like that. The word "help" is also an example. In "help people" and "a great help," the uses are different, but the meaning of help is similar.

There are also words with different uses and different meanings. For example, the use and the meaning of the word, bear, are different in "a brown bear in the zoo" and "please bear with me." With "bear with me," it can be saying "wait a minute." Rat is an example, too. In "a rat in the kitchen," rat is an animal. But that meaning is different from the rat in "don't rat us out." Take a look at your English book. Maybe you can see some words like these, too.

-) What is the reading about? 44. (
 - (A) The uses of different words.
- (B) The different examples in English books.
- (C) The similar meanings of different words. (D) The uses and meanings of English words.

(D) A baby bear is playing with the mommy bear.
